

Description:
 These classes are designed to receive and process them through different sources of Input .There is a DataListener which handles these different inputs, i.e TCP, Websocket and fileData as shown in the diagram.This design tries to enforce the Dependency Inversion principle as shown in the diagram by passing instance of dataParser and DataSource adapter into the listeners.